THE 1971 BEAR

South French Broad
Asheville, North Carolina

FOREWORD

Nineteen hundred and seventy introduced a new group of ninth grade students to the halls of South French Broad School. Mixed emotions were in evidence as the new year started. Some of us viewed the situation with apprehension, others displayed eagerness and enthusiasm. Many of us remained apathetic.

We entered, and we made an impression on our classmates and our teachers. The length and depth of the shadow we cast as we progressed through the year will determine the length of time we are remembered.

Our last days at South French Broad are the beginning of tomorrow. Years from now as we remember these days, these events, as the times and events of yesterday we will only see a vague picture.

As we step from today into tomorrow we will wish to remember the good times and maybe the bad times of South French Broad.

Time will erase all but the longest, deepest shadow and only a faded memory of the best will remain.

We have attempted to pictorially capture the best moments and leave a more vivid record of the shadows we cast throughout the year.

As we leave South French Broad, we proudly present this yearbook as one of the many shadows we have made.

DEDICATION

Mr. Carl Harris

This book is respectfully dedicated to a man who has proved himself worthy of this honor. He gives freely of his time and talent to the individual motivation, progress, and counsel of each student he teaches.

OUR PRINCIPAL

Mr. James E. Penley

A school operates efficiently in the shadow of a good principal. South French Broad's Principal, Mr. Penley, is not merely the voice of authority behind a desk in a private office. His shadow is made in the halls and in the classrooms, and is always preceded by cheery smile and a pleasant greeting for faculty and students alike.

FACULTY

THE DEANS

Mr. Quentin Miller
Dean of Boys

Mr. Miller's soft, firm voice affects the lives of every boy at South French Broad. He must sign admits to class for all boys returning to school after absences. Most discipline problems are referred to him, where they are met and resolved most admirably.

Mrs. Reams plays a leading role in our school. She personifies mother, counselor, and friend as she signs admits, lends a sympathetic ear to problems and so freely gives advice to the girls.

Mrs. Ruth Reams
Dean of Girls

COUNSELORS AND SECRETARY

Miss Rosamond Jones
Guidance Counselor

Mrs. Roberta Widmon
Guidance Counselor

These four efficient persons provide an important link between homes and school. They are always listening for cries of distress and they are always found very ably giving advice to parents, students and teachers.

Miss Geraldine Kennedy
Secretary

Mrs. Linda S. Harris
School Coordinator

THE LIBRARY

THE LIBRARY STAFF

Mrs. Mabel Belton
Librarian

The pleasant atmosphere and the neat appearance of our library impresses us as we walk through the door. We soon hear the delightful voice of our librarian saying, "Good morning, May I help you?" We immediately feel at ease because we know that Mrs. Belton has a thorough knowledge of the books and materials in the library.

The library staff helps Mrs. Belton in many ways.
